

Test Manager

Test Manager to Accenture Technology

New IT - Are you ready to step up to the New and take your technology expertise to the next level?

Rotating rapidly to New IT is no longer an option — it's a must.

With the unceasing emergence of new technologies, technology is moving from being a promoter of business value to becoming a source of value itself.

Realizing that organizations need to change both their technology and culture at pace, Accenture is stepping up to the New IT and we invite you to be part of the journey.

Be a part of the journey

There is never a typical day at Accenture and that's why we love it here! This is an extraordinary opportunity to build a rewarding career at Accenture Technology as a Test Manager.

Advanced Technology and Architecture group at Accenture Denmark has a great mix of people with diverse backgrounds fueling an innovative community where being different is a plus.

What we do to keep focus on innovation

- We organize approximately six community meetings annually where we focus on sharing experience, building new skills, and simply getting to know each other better.
- We run Hackathons four times a year where we work together to explore New IT areas in details
- We collaborate across teams of Agile Coaches, Functional Analysts, Solution Developers, DevOps Engineers and Technical Architects.
- We spend more than 10 % of our time on building skills on top of the training we get via job training delivering value based solutions and transformations to our clients across all private and public sectors.

Here's what we are looking for:

- Master of Science degree or similar.
- 5- 7 years of experience from a position where focus on utilization of technology to support business operations.
- Hands-on experience working as an Test Manager.
- Extensive understanding and hands on experience with testing standards, guidelines, methodologies.
- Strong communication and stakeholder management skills.
- Experience in the role as team manager and/or project manager of small to medium teams.
- Working with Test Automation into an agile delivery setup in large scale.

As a Manager in Accenture Denmark you will have the opportunity to work on some of the largest custom development projects in Denmark and the Nordics.

Key Responsibilities:

- Work with business teams to understand business requirements and functional process.
- Develop test strategy, test plan, test summary reports in agile/SAFe projects.
- Ownership of overall product quality and test
- Defect management: drive defect management process with business and development teams.
- Hands on experiences on test design techniques
- Lead/support test resources and manage testing process across project.

- Familiar with test automation.
- Establish testing tools and standards
- Minimize the gap between Business and IT by clearly define and manage expectations for each phase.
- Continues improvement of test process. Define clear process and communicate it to stakeholders
- Work with project manager and program managers to proactively report risks and issues.

Make a Difference by joining Accenture as a Test Manager

Get up close and personal with the business and act as a subject matter expert.

Having a dedicated and clear development path within testing. You also get to work with different technologies, clients and more importantly there is lots of focus on learning and developing while delivering to clients.

Join the journey from the traditional test manager role to a now stronger focus on test automation and quality engineering.

We have an extensive and diverse testing career path. Globally a community of 35000 + professionals and more than 30 delivery centers. Specialized in variety of applications, digital technologies and industries.

We have a buddy program where all new joiners get a person assigned to help them through the first months of getting to know the way of working in Accenture.

We have a team of dedicated Career Counselors (Mentors) that support the development of our people.

Contact and application

If you have any questions please call Brian Ranvits at European Search Company; +45 2048 0548 or mail; bra@europeansearch.dk.

If you are interested in the position, please send us your CV and motivational letter using the apply button.